THE WEEK AHEAD

Markets have been positive across southern Queensland this week. Both prime and store cattle moved higher. Lightweight young cattle under 250kgs finally found some takers though still remain very much a buy for those who can find somewhere to put them! The EYCI still remains behind 2017 and 2018 levels but has begun to close the gap. The EYCI south of Dubbo is still 67c above the level from Dubbo north, no doubt due to the best season in the south. On the overseas front demand remains strong with US end users lifting rates. Australian beef to Korea will face a little more head winds as exports will trigger the safeguard under the Korean Free Trade agreement. Under this agreement, tariffs for Australian beef will move from 24 to 30% until December 31. Thankfully while Chinese demand remains high it will not dampen the market overall to any great degree.
